

Concerning the Yankees Stadium Game & The Green Warning Dreams 3-30-25

The Green Warning Dream 3-16-25@ 10:36 AM

“Preparations. Preparations,” I heard spoken out loud then continued. “For festivals and festivities honoring patrons and saints that no longer focus on them, but have become a time of festivals and feasting to honor false gods and their created traditions. I hate your feast days and traditions, O world. They are foolishness. You should be preparing for this!” I heard the voice thunder in a loud booming voice. Then, suddenly, everything went totally black. I could see nothing, not even my hands before me. The voice thundered again in the darkness, “But before this, Babylon shall endure this.” Then suddenly the dark blackness was whisked away as if by an unseen hand.

Now again I found myself outside, but now it appears to be dark as at night because there are outside lights where I’m at I could see, wherever this location is. I’m not sure until I looked over and I saw what looked like a piece of land in the distance. I realized I’m on some type of boat in the water. I feel it’s somehow so I can better observe something. As the boat draws closer to the land, it’s as if my eyesight has increased substantially. There are decorations of green I saw, even though the city’s lands are still a good ways from me. I heard a loud booming noise coming from the area of the brightly lit cities on the land masses before me as I’m still in the boat a good distance away.

Note: I didn't say it was actually night time but it was dark as at night.

3-30-25@ 11:28 AM The appearance of the darkness you witnessed is the spiritual darkness that covers Manhattan from all the evil that is done inside and under her city walls daughter.

The Yankee Stadium Dream & Word 3-25-25 @6:35 AM & Word @9:54 AM

An excited woman looked at me and shouted, "It's opening day! The start of it all!" I smiled back at her as she turned back to watching the happenings below on the field. I watched somewhat apprehensively for some reason. So this is the start of it all, I thought to myself, just as the man on the left of me asked quickly, "Excuse me, can you tell me the time? My watch is still set for Israel's time." "Sure," I replied, and looked at the wristwatch I'm wearing (but never do in real life). "It's 3:00," I said. The man smiled and replied, "In Israel, it would be 9 PM. Thank you." "You're welcome," I replied, and then turned my attention back to the scene before me, the field before me. I heard the voice of a woman begin singing our National Anthem. I noticed most of the people were standing up now and holding their hands and hats to their chest. I immediately stood up, too. The woman's voice singing the National Anthem suddenly became almost harsh and cruel. It took on the sound of a man's voice when the song came to the part "...and the rockets red glare, the bombs bursting in air...".

Here we have a confirmation that “Opening day is the start of it all by the woman and myself.

Immediately afterwards the man from Israel says, “My watch is still set for Israel's time.”

I told him it 3' o'clock.

Then he confirms Israel's time plus in addition gives us the time of 9PM Israel's time. when he says, "In Israel, it would be 9 PM. Thank you." (A 9 o'clock time is confirmed in the Saving King's dream @3-21-23 (Uploaded 5-11-23). This is the only other time I have received this time and it's concerning dirty snow as cannonballs/nuclear.

So we have an established 9pm Israel's time which was 3 pm in New York's time the day I was at Yankee's Stadium in the dream. At this time there was only a 6 hour difference in time with Israel being 6 hours ahead of New York because they hadn't switched their time to Israel's daylight time. That happened on March 28th.

Next thing we have the star spangled banner being sung.

The woman's voice singing the National Anthem suddenly became almost harsh and cruel. It took on the sound of a man's voice when the song came to the part "...and the rockets red glare, the bombs bursting in air...". I froze in place as horror washed over me, yet no one else seemed to notice the change in this voice or the song. As I'm writing this, I recognize the song as being sung this way by the same voice as in other dreams (3 Moons and 3 Moons Dream on 9-12-24 @ 6:21 PM and 3 Moons and the Destroyer Dream @ 12-31-24 to 1-2-25)

Again this is confirmed that this is referring to the 10 hidden suitcases with the rogue nuclear devices in them from these prior dreams that now connect us to this dream. The start of it all...opening day is not the ballgame itself but the timing of it.

Rest of the Word from today: 3-30-25@ 11:28 AM

The 9 pm is Israel's time. The man stated his watch was in Israel's time. So 9pm is Israel's time. Daughter the 3 PM was the time while in New York/Bronx at the Yankees game. 3 PM is the target time but goes off shortly after.

First pitch is a ceremonial pitch on opening day that was at 3:05 PM.

The actual first pitch of the game was at 3:10 PM.

The batter hits the baseball and it goes soaring into the air...showing the game itself is not important but it's marking something...the timing of the start of the game...the start of it all. It connects New York, the start time, Manhattan all together with many confirmed accounts of more than one witness. (2 Cor. 13:1)

Suddenly it changes from a round white baseball to a black suitcase just as the woman beside me yelled out, "It's opening day! It's the start of it all!"

Again we have another confirmation that the start of it all 3 times in this dream is referring to the time of the 1st suitcases' detonation in my understanding.

When I saw the white x on the neighboring land of Manhattan it was marking the targeted location.

In addition the Lord Jesus Christ has announced his usage of the Hebrew and Julian calendars. The Julian calendar is behind the Gregorian calendar of America so actually March the 27th would be March 14th and March 15th would be March 28th. Which is still the original season of Purim. Since it is celebrated on the set days and not set by a new moon in the celebration of this time of feasting.

Jewish days for Purim would be Sundown 13th to sundown 14th for day one and at sundown the 14th to sundown the 15th.
