

War & Devastation increases 10-22-24@12:50 PM

The world sits on the edge of a prevised daughter. A prevised of destruction. The time has come. I have heard My children's cries of anguish much like that of the children of Israel when they were oppressed by the Egyptian rulers and cruel overseers. Daughter, although it has not been 400 years of bondage with the allowances given to satan, to lucifer's kingdom has antichrist's time draws nearer to reign on your world as ruler these things have advanced speedily. Including the persecution of My saints, those who are Mine.

Daughter, the mental attacks with all the noise and distractions of man's electronics and technology has left them very little time to focus on Me or even the family I have given to so many. Therefore their peace is shattered. I am their peace so when you choose to spend less of your time with Me and focusing on Me then your mind is filled with many things. Without anchoring your thoughts and life in Me and on Me worry, doubt, and fear arises. All tools and tricks of the enemy.

My children have been repeatedly told to refocus on Me the Lord and Savior Jesus Christ and many do. But only for a moment until they begin looking and listening to everything but My strong voice of comfort and peace. I have warned destruction, desolation, and war was coming. All three have fully arrived. You can see the proof of My words spoken by My children everywhere you look.

War has already begun daughter but now your world is ready to see it taken to a new level. The next level of mass destruction bombs, missiles, and weapons of every sort man can possibly imagine and some he cannot. This time is here and now.

Woe has come to your world daughter. Woe upon woe as my four horsemen continue running their course across your world just like satan runs to and fro upon it as well.

Devastation..... Cast Your eyes Upon Your once great nation daughter and the condition of many of your states now.

Destruction has come daughter.... Cast Your eyes Upon North Carolina, parts of Tennessee, New Mexico, and there's more still to come.

Desolation has come.... Look daughter at what the land has become and the bodies still left unburied and unaccounted for.

I see the sins hidden in these states and they are great although to the world's eyes they're evil atrocities have yet to be seen. But they are forthcoming! Watch and see. Watch and wait I say to those that will be left behind because of their lukewarm hearts of disobedience.

War daughter war is already seen openly upon your world. I say you're about to see it erupt reaching from corner to corner of your world. Only stopped briefly for most but not all for a moment of false peace presented by the antichrist and his forerunner and false prophet Barack Obama.

You're about to witness for Barack Obama's step out in the forefront in ways never before as he begins selling your world the antichrist's ideology of peace and the benefits of joining him which includes safety, security, healing through the demon blood, and healing beds that both mutate and change your DNA from human to no longer My perfect creation of mankind. So Antichrist can create his army of mutated people, drones, hybrids, nephilim, fallen angels, robots, and so much more. Because lucifer and he, antichrist really believe they can win the foretold.. aforementioned battle in Megiddo called Armageddon. This is what sin does. It allows you to believe your own lies and deception.

They will fail.

It's time for all to witness and behold My strong hand as I turn this world tossing it to and fro. My black rock is almost fully demagnetized daughter and when it's fully finished there will no longer be a wind to blow from north to south, or east to west except by My command.

Now it's time for destruction and mayhem as economies collapse and a one world money is introduced to save your world's infrastructure. It's this time as well, too.

But for now, war increases. Now devastation increases. And I take My children home who love Me enough to sacrifice their own wants and desires to keep themselves unspotted, clean, and separated from the world. My beautiful holy bride, I'm coming. My bride, I'm coming.

Daughter as my witness and the other, preparations have been arranged for your removal and safety. I come.

I come for all who are ready in Me Yeshua Ha' Mashiach....Jesus Christ your Lord. I am both these names. They're one and the same but some of My children call Me by one. While others call Me by the other. I have declared it this way so there's no misunderstanding. Children be ready to go for you will have no time to do so for some.
