

A Conversation about Xi Jinping Dream 5-8-24 to 5-10-24

I'm an observer. This dream began with me hearing these words.

"Every elected leader and governing power whether they are a Prime Minister, president elect, king, or queen, and those others in positions held in high esteem have a copy of the devil's playbook. So, all understands what's at stake if even one person, one member steps out of line."

It is a tall, a very tall slender, fair skin man with dark hair dressed in expensive, elegant looking clothes. He looks as if he is dressed for a grand celebration of sorts. The person he is talking to is none other than antichrist himself. He too is dressed as if attending a grand, formal occasion in a black tuxedo with a white shirt. A small red bow is tied around the collar of his white shirt contrasting its color greatly against the pristine whiteness of the shirt.

"I'm well aware of this," antichrist responded to the tall, slender man standing in front of him. "A strong warning has been sent to Xi from the dark lords as well as me that he is to follow the game plan. The guideline that has brought us this close to success. But Xi Jinping is a very ambitious one and he will not wait much longer to invade Taiwan and claim what we have rightfully given to him for his allegiance and obedience."

"His allegiance is to the dark lords first and foremost. He serves his master's well, except for this one event," the tall, slender man said in a voice of strong conviction. "The God of Heaven must be intervening somehow. But without the looking glass items we cannot look any further to see the future with the technology the dark lords provided for our use and theirs."

"Jobdrezal," antichrist replied, "without this ability to look into the future or the past the God of Heaven can change what is to occur and we would not know it!" Jobdrezal replied, "We are well aware of this fact and its possible the God of Heaven has caused a troubling spirit, one of those pesky demons to be speaking to Xi Jinping he has to attack Taiwan now! If this is the case he will be hard to control."

Antichrist nodded and shook his head in disgust. "We've had this technology underground, underwaters, and above the earth's crust for centuries combined. Now because the "cuss, cuss" God of Heaven and His filthy "cuss, cuss" Son, that "cuss, cuss" Nazarene being moved by love once again decides to remove it from our hands for Their children that were foolish enough to let themselves get left behind. This is my time to rule!" Antichrist shouted as his blue, yet black eyes filled with hatred and rage.

Jobdrezal replied softly, it seemed as if he was trying to soothe a child throwing a temper tantrum. "Son of satan, of lucifer do not forget that it is written that you will rule fully the whole world and if it is written by the God of Heaven, then it must be. It cannot be stopped! And yes, you will have power to hunt down, beat, torture, and kill those left behind. But..." He said not finishing his sentence.

"But what?" Antichrist yelled out, his eyes now bulging, and his face was distorted and twisted in rage. No longer did Jobdrezal's words have a comforting effect but just the opposite. As the slender, black-haired man had intended by the wicked smile on his face.

Then he began speaking once again. “It is not written in the Scripture of Truth if the God of Heaven or His carpenter Son would allow you to keep your technology or anything else for that matter except what is needed for you and me to accomplish our parts to fulfill the written Word.” “We’ll change it,” antichrist yelled out in anger. Jobdrezal looked at him briefly then asked. “Will we? We will see, we will try.”

Before antichrist could respond the slender man continued. “I think I may have a solution for Xi Jinping. He has been promised Tsai Ing Wen Taiwan’s president in standing. His hatred for her runs bitter and deep as she pushed the Island’s people into more non-traditional Chinese beliefs.”

“Inform him that from all the signs read before Heaven shut down our looking glass, even the reading of the stars, the time of the foretold 3 days of darkness has arrived in its full-term season. Should the God of Heaven not change this and if Xi waits, he will Tsai Ing Wen by default still acting as the President of Taiwan.”

“After the darkness lifts and so many people vanish and many are dead from all that occurred, then what is to occur when the God of Heaven’s destroying angels are released there will be no changing of power. No inauguration celebrations and this will be for most every nation and country of this world. Xi has the devil’s playbook as all the others do. He will be ready to mobilize his armies and fleets before the world’s people can get a small grasp of what has happened.”

“Let’s not forget there will be great destruction and our fellow Nephilim, demons, and dark lords the fallen ones will finally be released from their prison. Even though they will be confined to the earth now.”

Antichrist stood still and quiet for a moment and said. “It might buy us a little more time if this will appease Xi momentarily.” Then he begins grinning wickedly. “I like it,” but then he said, “It’s too bad we can’t just kill him now! The God of Heaven said he is to be kept alive until his role in His end times is completed.”

Jobdrezal smiled and clasped antichrist on his right shoulder and said. “Don’t worry about it. The dark lords have already decided his fate when the God of Heaven lifts His command. It will be a poisonous time for him in the end.” They both begin laughing, laughing uncontrollably like wild hyenas until I heard someone clear their throat.

I turned to see it was the red-headed Nephilim giant Sarina in a long red, satin sparkly dress I have seen so many times before. The first time was the very first dream I had about the Nephilim titled “The Delusion Has begun Dream 5-1-21@6:52AM.” She was at the Nephilim underground facility located deep under the United Nations building in Switzerland.

Antichrist and Jobdrezal looked at her as they finally stopped laughing at how they planned to kill Xi Jinping when they were finally able to do so, then became serious again. “Yes,” antichrist said quickly. “He will see you now,” Sarina said, “Jobdrezal you are to wait here. Lucifer the light bearer prefers to speak to his son alone. As antichrist begins walking toward Sarina I begin waking up and was praying as I did.

“Jesus Christ these people, the kingdom of darkness are evil itself. If not for your help such as in removing their ability to look into the past or the future through their fallen ones forbidden knowledge technology your people left behind would not even have a chance hardly to make it to any safe area from all I have been shown.”

“Thank You for Your tender mercies toward all Your children. Even those who will be left behind in the coming days when You come for Your bride because they were not ready.”

“I love all My children daughter. I love them everyone just the same.”
