

An EMP Effect Before the 3 Days of Darkness 5-9-24@10:00AM

In the days to come man will strive further to prove that there is no God in Heaven. I assure you daughter of Mine I exist and will always exist. I have no beginning or end. I am eternal. This will prove fruitless on their part as I send down My holy angel announcing the proof of My existence and declares boldly to the remaining inhabitants of your world that I am the one true and living God and Jesus Christ My Son was sent as Savior and true Redeemer of this world, the earth.

Antichrist's forces cannot hide My angel's appearance in the sky from all who are called to see and hear the message of the Gospel of Heaven preached in its purity and entirety. Many will come to Me through My Son from this action alone with many of these called to be the end time martyrs beheaded by the man of sin and his one world unified system.

My Word shall always prove true. But until this time, here is what your world and people, all the inhabitants have to still face..... The 3 days of darkness.

When the assault from the sun's rays and projections enters your earth's atmosphere from the holes created by the portal particle accelerator-type machines that pulled down the very fabric of it until they produced holes that have enlarged over continual abuse, your world in many places shall experience what your world calls an EMP effect on many systems and devices.

Thus, the Northern Lights, the colorful dancing lights will cover the earth's sky in the deadly colors and then precisely at My noon, real noon on your world My darkness shall descend suddenly and quickly with a brief light in the sky before everything goes dark. This is the outer darkness from the deep in which no light exists in. It is alive! For those unsaved there shall be wailing and gnashing of the teeth. This is only a brief moment in time what they shall endure in the great lake of fire when the end of all things comes if they do not repent.

Three days, for three days My darkness shall lay across your earth, the whole firmament! The sun shall go into its hiding as well as the moon. Stars shall fall while some shall hide their lights. The fallen angels once bound shall be released and cast down to the earth because the air no longer belongs to them as the devil and those that fell with him can no longer access the Heaven of your firmament, of your world.

The destroyer comes but there are four not one alone that shall cover the earth striking blow upon blow the first born of all that remain if no repentance was found after My Son returned for those who were ready and waiting in Him. Also, of the beasts. As it was in Moses My servant's day so shall it also be. The same but also different.

The four destroying angels have been released from their underwater prison and await My command. They are still bound but not imprisoned. I shall unleash them as My Son ascends with His redeemed bride. Woe has come to your world little daughter. Daughter, it takes obedience to be prepared when all these things come upon your world.
