

Why Are 2 Sun's Rising Lord? Dream 5-26-24@ 2:52PM (Shared 5-27-24)

It began as I am looking out across the open sky and a new day is dawning. Everything has begun waking up just as Father God created it to do during His creation of our world inside its firmament. I'm not sure where I am at, but I am sitting on the veranda of either a hotel room or a getaway house that you rent from other people. It feels more like a hotel. I looked around from where I'm sitting with a cup of hot tea, and I saw what looked like white stucco walls. I looked further out, and I saw a beach below with people walking and gathering there already and a beautiful ocean beyond the sandy beach.

"I love to watch the sunrise and set," I said to myself then laughed. "I like to look at the moon and stars too. I must be a sky watcher, after all, the Holy Word of God said to watch it for signs." I took a sip of the hot tea. It's good. It tastes like Earl Grey tea. "Thank you, Father God, for daily loading us with benefits." I saw the sun had begun to rise proudly into the sky above the horizon. The orange glow with the tint of pinks and red always remind me of how Father God and Jesus Christ are the Master Painters of all things. I caught a movement to the left of me and a seagull has landed on the iron railing where I'm sitting.

"Father God in Jesus Christ's Name is this a friendly bird, or one that has a monitoring spirit? Because if it's the latter in Jesus Christ's Name I shall cut its cord with Your holy fire. I heard softly this reply in my mind's eye. "Daughter of faith, of Mine, he is friendly and he's trying to get your attention." "Oh," I replied, "I'm sorry," I said to the bird. "Mr. Seagull what is it you want me to see?" The seagull with its large bill and large wings began flapping his wings. Then he rose up and began flying to the right. My eyes followed him and to my surprise I saw the sun coming up in this direction.

"What but wait!" I cried out and turned my head back toward the first sunrise. Sure enough, it's still rising, "But how?" I asked out loud as I looked to my right and, yes, there is still a second sun rising up into the sky. "I need to get my phone or camera, no one will believe me if I don't capture it," I said quickly and set my teacup down to go inside. I heard the soft gentle voice say, "No, daughter, even if you present your world with the truth of what you are seeing, your governments' shall disprove it with their man-made false theories, Media Mongols, and their owned fact checkers like the one named Snopes." "Snopes! What kind of name is that," I asked? "One with a hidden meaning little daughter like so many they use."

"Jesus Christ, Father God, why are there 2 suns rising at the same time? What's going on? Is it Cern related?" "Yes and no," I heard a voice say loud and clear to me on my left, not just a beautiful, gentle voice in my mind's eye. I turned to see it's my lovely, lovely Jesus Christ, but this time His hair is brown with reddish rust highlights in it as well as a small trace amounts in his beard and mustache. His blue eyes are full of kindness, love, intelligence, and holiness, plus so much more. He is so holy!

"Jesus, my love," I exclaimed as I tried to quickly get out of my chair. I knocked my tea over in the process. I threw myself into His welcoming arms and I felt so many things rush over my weary body and mind. I felt His strength become my strength as He held me tenderly as one does for their beloved child. Tears filled my eyes, and I began crying softly as healing flowed and comfort for my mind, body, soul, and spirit. Jesus Christ held me in His arms tenderly and all I could think was, "Thank You my love. You are truly the gentle, kind, good Shepherd who cares for His wounded sheep."

After my tears quit flowing, He held me a little longer in His arms as He gently said, "Oh, beloved daughter of Mine, I give to you strength to carry on for you still have much to do for Our Kingdom in My Name. Even after I take My bride home." Then with tender care, He pushed me gently away and looked into my eyes. "He's so holy!"

“What has been done to you daughter is recorded and yes, I shall have Michael My warrior and his angels to take care of the fallen angels no longer needed for the end time days to be completed.... to drag them in binding chains into the pit to where they shall wait for their time to be cast into the burning Lake of Fire and Torment. This judgment has been passed as fair, just, right, and true in the Courts of Heaven.”

“Come now, sit back down and I will talk about more of the enemy’s plans for your world and earth. He motioned me to the chair I had exited, and I slowly sat back down. He reached down and picked up the cup that once held the hot tea that I had spilt. “Here,” He said gently. I reached out and took the cup. It’s hot to my touch! I looked inside and there to my delight and surprise was steaming hot tea. “Thank You,” I said in wonder. “You are welcome,” He replied as He sat down in the chair beside me to my left. It was then I noticed He’s dressed in everyday clothing. He had on blue jeans and a pullover red shirt that immediately made me think of His precious Blood He had shed for all.

He smiled at me having read my thoughts, then He pointed to the sun on the right. “What do you see that’s different in this sun than the other rising in front of us?” “They’re both very bright my love,” I replied. “Eyes to see with spiritual shades I give to you My daughter, now look again.” “WOW!” I said as I was now able to look directly toward the sun without my eyes being burned or fried by its power. “The one in front of us is round and bright and even though its hot heat coming off from it, there’s still like a gentleness to it. Like the full effects are still being held back and protecting the earth and its people from its full potency.” “That’s a good, sound observation my lovely Jesus Christ replied to my answer.

“Now My daughter observe the one coming up from the right.” “Okay,” I said as I turned to focus my gaze upon it intently. “It’s bright, it’s hot! Very hot with its heat being brutal and intense. The center is round and...No, wait! It has an irregular shape to it. It almost looks like...I don’t know...a honeycomb or a hexagon shape! The light is just as bright coming off of it, but again I would say the heat coming off of it is brutal and intense as if it would scorch and burn without mercy all it touches,” I said thoughtfully.

“Another sound observation My daughter. You have listened well and practiced Holy Spirit’s teaching to you.” I blushed slightly at His words then said, “Thank you. That means so much to me. I feel like I shall forever be in obedience training.” He laughed a warm, genuine laugh and said, “Most of My children earnestly seeking to walk in My ways tells Me this quite often.”

“But obedience daughter is a good thing and necessary. For if you find yourself in a dangerous situation facing a trap the enemy has laid for you, obedience in Me through My Holy Ghost Spirit shall save you much heartache and, in some instances, save your life from premature death by foolish actions.” “Wow, I never thought of it like that,” I replied with a smile of my own. Oh, how I love being in His wonderful, holy presence.

“Tell Me, My daughter what do you surmise about there being 2 suns?” “Father God created only one sun, one moon, the stars, and the earth during creation or else it would otherwise be written. So, one of them is a fake. I would have to say the one on the right with the hexagon edges. Furthermore, I would tend to think it’s also technology supplied by the fallen ones to evil minded inhabitants of our world,” I replied.

“Daughter not all the scientists, chemists, and fields of science, and technology members working in these fields know of the true purposes behind their experiments, ideas, and designs. Such as Mr. Zeb who worked on the nano technology of your world that I have shown to you by dream, but most truly are,” Jesus said softly. “You’re right,” I replied, “forgive me for classing everyone into the same category my love.” “You are forgiven little daughter,” He replied.

“So, is this related to the Cern facility, or other such ones located in our world, our firmament?” He looked at me for a moment and then replied. “Not directly.” “But they are somehow connected,” I said quickly. “Yes, daughter they are. The council of 13 are in direct communication with those of the Cern foundation above and below the ground in the secret areas few have been allowed to enter and see. This is where antichrist, the man of sin has so many of his evil gatherings. It is a stronghold for evil built on accursed ground that the fallen ones.... the fallen angels frequent often and are openly worshipped there inside their walls.”

He continued. “The fallen ones are about to make their appearance to your world in more ways than pretending to come to your world as fake aliens.” “I know, You’ve been talking to me about them. But why are they utilizing a fake sun in the sky and whose is it? Which nation’s?” “The one in current orbit around the earth that man has created is from your nation of Babylon, the once united states, although at times your world’s inhabitants have seen 3. The other is from the king of the east of China.”

“Why? What are they trying to do with them? Are there more than just these 2 fake ones alone?” I asked. “There is little daughter but currently it is the one from your nation the enemy is using.” Jesus said to me with a serious look upon His face as He continued to look at the fake sun in the sky trying to rival the magnificent one that Father God and He had created. “Why allow it?” I asked. “Why not just command it to be destroyed instead of letting them pretend to be You, or Father God?” He smiled at me tenderly as if a father or mother who in love endures their child’s questions patiently. Then He responded in a gentle, yet firm voice.

“Many things are allowed including the existence of sin so that in the end when all that is written in the holy Scripture of Truth is fulfilled, sin and evil will no longer exist. The fallen angels...the fallen ones and all their evil kingdom shall be cast into the eternal Lake of Fire where those it originated from, beginning with lucifer the light bearer’s pride in oneself shall be forever removed out of existence, outside of time, and eternity. It’s like an endless void like that of what your world scientists think a black hole is like. Once again, they are wrong! They should seek further clarity from the fallen angels they worship and serve. But even still yet they will only share any information that will benefit them and not mankind or the earth’s inhabitants.”

“Daughter of Mine, your enemies think by creating a sun of their own they can capture and harness its power to duplicate what I have created by Father’s command. They know as the end draws to a close of all time for this earth, the sun will become damaged and lose part of its light, as well as the moon and the stars. For it is written and it shall come to be. But in their haste to capture the sun’s power and create their own substitute it has become their very actions through the constant aggression against My Heavens that has caused the damage they were originally trying to prevent. As the fallen ones created more and more “newly” discovered moons, planets, and stars never seen before to man, mankind themselves wanted to be godlike. They have not only created their fake suns, but fake stars and moons,” He said to me, then continued.

“Did I not show you in the dream 3 Moons till Darkness that there were 3 moons. 3 seeable moons to your eyes being displayed at one time?” “Yes, You did, but I thought it might had referred to the number of moons to count down from,” I replied, “but I’m still seeking You for the full meaning.” “And this I shall tell you. The 3 moons displayed in the sky that you witnessed at the start were to let you know the start of all these things. The changing from colder to warming weather was to identify you were traveling through time as you did surmise, but also the end of the last moon revealed a green sprig of grass. This was to identify to you when your 3 moons in the sky would appear. Also, after you saw the last full moon, you continued to walk till morning.”

“This daughter of Mine shows you in multiple layers it is also a counting down of the moons and that events are triggered as you advanced through time. The 3 moons you saw were.... the one I created and 2 more of fake origins again by the fallen ones’ technology. They try to cover all these occurrences with their many cloud cover techniques and machines used in your sky. Even their weaponized weather machines are called upon. Then when reports slip out, as I ensure they do of these strange occurrences, they call upon nasa, the media, and your world’s experts the fallen angels to deceive the world’s people more and more. This is why in all things...all things daughter, My children should be seeking My truth.” Just like you continued to seek My truth about this dream and others without running with the obvious. Those who take time to seek My truth, I shall reveal it to them,” Jesus said in a clear, firm voice as we continued to watch both suns in the sky rise higher.

I looked at each one again and then asked. “Jesus Christ my love is the enemy trying to use their fake sun to create a power source to keep lights on during the 3 days of darkness. Also, are they using this type of technology of creating the sun, moon, stars, and fake planets to generate power somehow to open portals already? Or to be able to open them when the 3 days of darkness comes? Such as the massive, powered portal needed to open the main pit of the abyss plus all the other locations they are focusing on? He looked at me and smiled then said, “Daughter of Mine you are asking questions with understanding already of how the enemy works and utilizes their evil, wicked devices, weapons, machines, and technology. This is why you know how to fight well against them. You’re not ignorant of their spiritual or physical devices. Now also the emotional ones as the last enemies hidden deep inside your life have been revealed to you and you are still standing strong in Me.” He finished softly.

“You’re right,” I answered Him quickly, “but it’s all because of You that I’m able to do so.” “Yes,” He replied, “but you had a choice to continue walking this path forsaking all to follow Me, or to stop and not proceed any further.” “I know, but in the end there’s nothing or no one I love above You and Father God. I choose to serve and reach all I’m called to reach in Your Name and for Father God’s glory.” He smiled at me again and it warmed my heart. Then He said, “And it shall be so. Obedience brings glory and honor to the Father.”

“Now about the reason I am showing this to you. You need to understand and realize such signs shall continue to occur.” “Then what am I supposed to do against it? Surely there’s something I can pray, or Your children can pray together,” I asked seriously. “That little daughter is the correct question to ask. My children have the power of My Name and authority I give them. Upon the creation of Adam, man was given the dominion over the earth, over the created things. This daughter includes the Heaven of the firmament your world was created in. So, as a daughter of Heaven reborn by My Blood, as an heir to Our Father’s Kingdom you have all power in My Name such as I Myself do, the power of Father God in Heaven.”

“But you also have the rightful dominion to rule over the Heaven where the sun, moon, and stars abide and even control their doings. If it were not so, then when Joshua commanded the sun and moon to stand still for a day, then Father God nor I would have commanded the sun and moon to obey his voice,” Jesus Christ said to me. “I understand this,” I replied, “but how does this tell me how to pray?” He smiled wider at me then said. “Does not My Word tell you to ask anything in My Name and I will do it? Try asking in prayer through My Name for such technology, machines, weapons, and devices to not hold their places in the earth’s Heaven. Nor for them to maintain their power or their power sources. Command in My Name alone for all illegal activity that’s been done in the earth’s Heaven to stop and for only what Father God or I determine is needful to be allowed. You can also do this over any part inside the created firmament which includes the land of the earth, the waters and seas, and the sky. Even hell beneath but to a point for hell.”

“These prayers will need to be led by My Holy Spirit and Me and your life needs to be lived holy before Us according to My Word and not man’s interpretation of who is holy and righteous and who is not. The 2 suns have been allowed to be seen as a sign of the end time days,” He finished saying. “Jesus Christ my love, when I pray this, what happens then?” He looked at me seriously and said. “The 3 days of darkness finally comes. But understand this My daughter, if you do not pray against such evil devices and technology the 3 days of darkness shall still come, but by other means. The day is set! The time is here! I shall not let any unauthorized lights of any kind to be used during this time. Even though antichrist, the council of 13 and hidden elite society believe it can be done. They shall soon find out. I am God....and they are not! Then I awoke.
